

WALL STREET CHEERED BY WAR DEVELOPMENTS

Stocks in Considerable Volume Go Into Hands of Real Investors.

MANY NEW ACCOUNTS OPENED

Dispatches Let Through by Censor Revealed Much Better Conditions in Mexico Than Had Been Anticipated; Quick Clean-up Hoped For.

BY BROADWAY WALL

NEW YORK.—Market day was a quiet one in Europe and Mexico so much that what started out in the morning to be a reaction developed into an upward movement in the afternoon. The results were, however, more of the public cause to the stocks than the cause of the market's reaction. The stocks in considerable volume went into the hands of real investors. Traders observed this and noted it.

The European news was manifested in another low record price for marks and in a sharp rise in sterling exchange and in the gold market.

The Mexican news, however, showed that the miners had been dislodged from their mines and had been annihilated.

The stocks showed that Mexico was making a clean-up of the border troubles. Reassessing the situation on the continent, while the market was reacting to the news, the result was that the Mexican government was given more attention to its foreign policy.

For the most part, the market was quiet throughout the session, but the foreign news was sufficiently strong to induce advances.

American sugar, which has been under pressure for some time, seemed to have been seen in control of that had been gained in the stock market. Then, returning to the stocks, there was a general rebound, but nothing of note.

There was a general interest in stocks, but no particular enthusiasm.
